

Paolo Solari Bozzi© - Sermilik Fjord, Greenland 2016

ARTICO. ULTIMA FRONTIERA Summit on Climate Change

VENICE, MARCH 6, 2017 h. 10.00 am / Ca' Foscari University of Venice

Programme:

Welcome address

Flavio Gregori Provost for Cultural Activities and Relations, Ca' Foscari University of Venice

Andrea Tilche European Commission, DG Research & Innovation, Head of Unit Climate Action and Earth Observation, Brussels.

The Arctic: an early warning of climate change

Konrad Steffen Director, Swiss Federal Research Institute WSL, Professor ETH Zurich

The Melting of the Greenland Ice Sheet – How does it affect the Global Sea Level?

Angelika Humbert Head of Section Glaciology AWI, Bremerhaven, Helmholtz Centre for Polar and Marine Science, Professor for Ice modelling, University of Bremen

How the Greenland Ice Sheet is losing mass forced by the Ocean

Carlo Barbante Professor of Analytical Chemistry, Director of the Institute for the Dynamics of Environmental Processes – CNR, Ca' Foscari University of Venice

From Pole to Pole - new challenges in ice core sciences

Break

Jane da Mosto Executive Director and Co-Founder, We are here Venice
Water levels in Venice, trends and adaptations

Alfonso Saibene Canepa Board member, Canepa SpA, San Fermo della Battaglia, Como

Mauro Rossetti Director Associazione Tessile e Salute, Biella
A more transparent textile supply chain for a more sustainable fashion

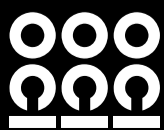

Simone Molteni Scientific Director, LifeGate, Milan
Science, communication and climate change. Last Frontier. Last Call

Discussion and closing remarks

The conference will be held in English. Please confirm your participation to eventi@unive.it

Ca' Foscari
University of Venice

Tre Oci

Fondazione di Venezia

Servizio Attività Culturali - Settore Eventi
Università Ca' Foscari Venezia
Dorsoduro 3246 - 30123 Venezia
tel. 041 2348358