Description

The Department of Economics at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia invites applications for a fellowship in:

- Title:

Innovation in social and health services

- Academic Discipline or disciplines specifically identified by the call SECS-S/05; SPS/07
- scientific coordinator and tutor: Prof. Stefano Campostrini
- duration: 12 months

abstract:

The research fellow will have the task of carrying out research and accompanying activities related to the project line 3 envisaged in the annual plan of activities between the Veneto Region and Ca' Foscari University. The pandemic has made it clear that the integration between social policies and health policies requires the adoption of innovative thinking in the supply chain, in order to integrate prevention, assistance and care and to develop flexible services in the people's places of life. This innovative development appears to be a major challenge to tackle the ageing process of the population.

The research fellow will therefore support the Management of the Veneto Region in identifying policies and measures to adapt the regional social and health system, with particular relevance to interventions in support of aging. The research fellow will be asked to participate in meetings with the university and regional team, collect and analyze data, carry out desk research on international models, collaborate in project actions.
