- analytical skills that must not be limited to the philological aspect but also include the historical and archaeological field.

It will be essential to demonstrate a multidisciplinary approach to research as the documentary dossiers to be analyzed must to be compared with others from different linguistic and cultural horizons.

At the end of his/her research activity, the research fellow is required to provide the Department with:

- Research in the ancient classical sources (Greek and Latin, VI BC - III AD) for passages and citations relating to viticulture, the use of wine and forms of commensality in India and Central Asia, in any context.
- Analysis of the passages, historical and ethnographic contextualization, specific bibliographic research, commentary, translation into Italian and English of the texts, insertion in a dedicated database.
- Comparison with documentary dossiers in other languages and writing systems (in translation, e.g., Persepolis Archives, Avroman Scrolls, documents in Aramaic from Bactria and Parthian Nysa, Akkadian documentation from Mesopotamia); the comparison will obviously also take place with the Indian and Iranian documentation whose analysis will be entrusted to another research fellow with whom a fruitful collaboration will have to be established.
- Comparison with the archaeological documentation of Gandharan origin (bibliographic information will be provided by the scholars participating in the project).
- Organization of a general conference on the topic and of working seminars of the research group that will have a specific didactic impact in the Master courses of Greek History and Archeology and History of Art of India and Central Asia (academic year 2022-23), which will be linked by the common subject and a planned study trip to the Swat Valley.

The work can be done remotely, but a periodic (monthly) personal discussion in Venice with the project coordinator is required.

Selection procedure

The interview will be held on 18th March 2022, h. 9 a.m. The interview will be held in remote (with Google Meet).

The short-list of the candidates admitted to the interview, or any postponement, will be published on the University's webpage on 14th March 2022 (link).
