Description
The Department of Environmental Sciences, Informatics and Statistics at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia invites applications for fellowship in:

TITLE: Static Taint Analysis for IoT Software

SSD: INF/01
Tutor: Prof. Pietro Ferrara
Duration: 12 months

_Abstract: The goal of this project is to (i) develop a generic framework to formalize and approximate the communication channels adopted by different IoT layers to communicate, (ii) apply such abstraction to some of the most popular programming languages adopted for developing IoT software (Java, Python, JavaScript) relying on existing generic static analyzers, and (iii) instrument taint analysis considering exactly what portions of the communications between different IoT software layers are tainted detecting potential security vulnerabilities

The research may be carried out in English. The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia.

Who can apply

Prospective candidates are expected to hold a master's degree MSc in Computer Science, or related fields, or related areas or equivalent foreign qualification or related disciplines.

Ca' Foscari encourages applications from researchers with positive evaluation in all the criteria in individual proposals such as Marie Skłodowska Curie Actions - Individual Fellowships/ERC Starting Grants/FIRB (Italian Fund for basic research investments)/SIR (Scientific Young Independence Research) or similar.
Researchers having successfully completed Marie Skłodowska Curie Actions - Individual Fellowships/ERC Starting Grants/FIRB (Italian Fund for basic research investments)/SIR (Scientific Young Independence Research) or similar funded projects are warmly encouraged to apply.

Duration of contract: 12 months, approximately starting: December 2022
