Description

The Department of Linguistic and Comparative Cultural studies at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia invites applications for a fellowship in:

Title: Ways out. Tales of shooting and life

Scientific area: L-LIN/02, M-PED 04

Abstract:

The research "Vie di Uscita: Storie di Scatti e di Vita" is an important participatory research-action education initiative dedicated to migrant students in first reception educational institutions, focusing on the socio-cultural, digital and linguistic adaptation of foreign students newly arrived in Italy. The main objective is to understand the key factors influencing the possibilities of inclusion of these young people in society and the local environment.

The research involves participatory action-research interventions with adolescents and aims to enhance the communicative empowerment of migrant students, especially those coming from contexts with a high rate of migrant students, who constitute a fundamental part of the research. Students will be actively involved in the production of photographic and narrative content that will be shared with the local community, thus contributing to the analysis and understanding of their experiences of socio-cultural, digital and linguistic adaptation.

Part of the research will be carried out in English.

The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia.
