Description

The Department of Humanities at Ca' Foscari University of Venice (Dipartimento di Studi Umanistici dell'Università Ca' Foscari Venezia) invites applications for a fellowship in: "Preroman necropolis of Padua: a case of proto-urban society development" - ARCH-01/C Civilizations of Pre-Roman History and Etruscology, Cod. GSD 10/ARCH-01 (vd. DM 639/2024), duration 12 months, tutor Prof. Giovanna GAMBACURTA, financed by PRIN 2022 - Missione 4 "Istruzione e Ricerca" del Piano Nazionale di Ripresa e Resilienza ed in particolare la componente C2 – investimento 1.1, Fondo per il Programma Nazionale di Ricerca e Progetti di Rilevante Interesse Nazionale (PRIN) project: "20228KR93P - Families, Gender, Mobility and Interculturalism in the etrusco-italic necropolis. Some cases from Campania and Veneto (FaGeMI)", CUP: H53D23000080006, Principal Investigator Prof. Giovanna GAMBACURTA.

Abstract: The research involves the systematic study of burials from the southern and eastern necropolises of pre-Roman Padua, belonging to groups significant for the funerary representation of family aggregations or social proximity. The researcher will have to study the materials from the point of view of chronotypology and funerary ritual, matching the results with basic and advanced anthropological analyses, and take into account anthracological analyses where available. The aim is to define socially significant families groupings pertaining to the 9th-7th centuries, in relation to the development of the proto-urban centre and their possible allochthonous provenance. In the course of this study, the assignee will have to organise interdisciplinary analyses and relate to the anthropological scholars involved in the project.

The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Ca' Foscari University of Venice.
