

Ca' Foscari
University of Venice

Department of Economics

Corpo Consolare di Venezia
e del Veneto

IBE
Philosophy
International Studies
Economics
Lectures

Photo credit: Lorianna Claudia

Latin America and the International System: a turning point?

Multidisciplinary perspectives on Venezuela

Friday, January 30th, 2026 – 4.00 pm CET
Online

Introduction:

Prof. Matteo Legrenzi,
Ca' Foscari University of Venice

Prof. Andrea Ruggeri,
University of Milan and SGRI
Sovereignty in the International System from an IR perspective

Prof. Sara De Vido,
Ca' Foscari University of Venice
Whither International Law?
Sovereignty and the prohibition of the use of force after the intervention in Venezuela

Prof. Luis Fernando Beneduzi,
Ca' Foscari University of Venice
U.S. Interests in Latin America: A historical perspective

Dr. Felipe Krause,
Oxford University
The Political Economy of Drug Policy in Latin America

Prof. Valerio Dotti,
Ca' Foscari University of Venice
Sovereignty and Energy Economics in Venezuela: How “investable” is Venezuela?

Prof. Matteo Cosci,
Ca' Foscari University of Venice
Costantino Acosta's philosophy of law for a future Venezuela

To participate in the event, please register at this link.