

New Books

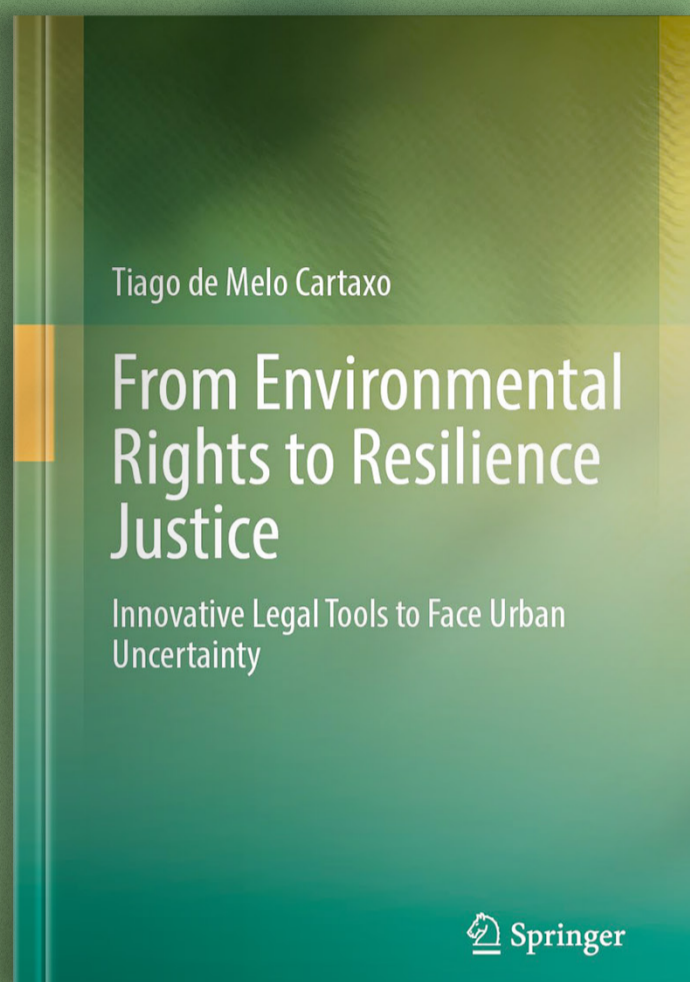

in Environmental Humanities

2026

Ca' Foscari University of Venice

NICHE
Centre for Environmental Humanities

From Environmental Rights to Resilience

Justice Innovative Legal Tools to Face Urban Uncertainty

Tiago De Melo Cartaxo

University of Exeter

22 June

2:30 PM CEST

This seminar is part of the activities of the Cluster "Ecological and Ecofeminist Approaches to Law"
PI Sara De Vido

Departing from the complex reality of cities and intending to address existing vulnerabilities from a legal perspective, this book aims to suggest the implementation of new legal frameworks which, through more adaptive mechanisms of law, can allow the realisation of justice for socio-ecological resilience. Climate change is one of the biggest challenges for today's Environmental Law.

Ca' Bottacin, Aula B & Online
Calle Crosera, Dorsoduro 3911,
30123 Venezia

Full info and Zoom link:
unive.it/data/33113/26/115626