

150 1868
2018
Ca' Foscari
University of Venice

Department of Humanities

Workshop 27-28 March 2018

Thinking Digital in Cuneiform Studies: Methods, Problems, Perspectives

Palazzo Malcanton Marcorà Sala Milone, 3rd floor

Tuesday, March 27

9.30 Lucio Milano, welcoming remarks

Session One: Methods and Problems

- 9.40 Dominique Charpin Online Databases : Epigraphy, Philology, History... and More?
- 10.20 Lucio Milano, Massimo Maiocchi Ebla Digital Archives: Early Cuneiform Texts as a Problem in History and Digital Humanities
- 11.00 Coffee break
- 11.20 Stephen White Digital Philology: Research Environment for Ancient Documents
- 12.00 Manuel Molina BDTNS and New Researches on Neo-Sumerian Studies
- 12.40 Discussion and comments
- 13.00 Lunch Break
- 14.30 Reinhard Pirngruber LaBaSi – Late Babylonian Signs
- 15.10 Nathan Morello Working with The Royal Inscriptions of Assyria Online (RIAo) Project
- 15.50 Francesco Di Filippo Designing a Digital Repository of Annotated Texts for the Representation of Logo-Syllabic Writing Systems
- 16.30 Discussion and comments to session one

Wednesday, March 28

Session Two: Perspectives

- 9.30 Émilie Pagé-Perron Recent Developments in Natural Language Processing for Cuneiform Languages
- 10.10 Erica Scarpa, Don't Fear, Don't Trust: Some Methodological Considerations on Data Mining and Data Visualization Applied to Cuneiform Sources
- 10.50 Coffee break
- 11.10 Christian Hess Digital Perspectives on Linguistic Mapping: The Case of Early Neo-Babylonian
- 11.50 Massimo Maiocchi Dealing with Incoherence: N-gram Applications to the Cuneiform Corpus
- 12.30 Final discussion

Respondents:

Maria Giovanna Biga, Marco Bonechi, Amalia Catagnoti, Renzo Orsini, Maria Vittoria Tonietti

PRIN
Progetti di Rilevante Interesse Nazionale