

Ca' Foscari
University of Venice

Department of Philosophy and Cultural Heritage

Friday, January 21, 2022

15:30-18:00 CET /

9:30 AM – 12:00 PM EST

Online on Zoom

Registration
Facebook event

Organized by

Anna Maria Rosinska

Ca' Foscari University of Venice

MAJORdom project

Contact:

anna.rosinska@unive.it

Turning the Care Narrative during the Pandemic. The role of activists, experts, and policymakers

15:30-16:30 CET

Session 1. Domestic workers and the pandemic

Sabrina Marchetti (chair)

Anna Rosińska, The MAJORdom project main findings: workers' organizations, emotional labor, the impact of the pandemic

Heloisa Maria Galvão, Brazilian Women's Group: solidarity and emergency

Angella Foster, Matahari Women Workers Center

Anna Jakubek and Marta Romankiv, Domestic workers organizing during the pandemic: Warsaw - Chicago solidarity

Elizabeth Pellerito, Advocacy of domestic workers in the United States: worker health, public health, economic health

16:30-16:45

Discussion

16:45-17:30

Session 2. Care work and the health and social crisis

Elizabeth Pellerito (chair)

Sabrina Marchetti, Migrants, essential workers, and carework at the outbreak of the pandemic

Magalis Troncoso Lama, Dominican Development Center caring for the care workers

Mignon Duffy, The role of care experts in a care crisis

Anna Rosińska, Changing the care practices, turning the care narratives - points for the future research

17:30-18:00

Discussion

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie grant agreement No 799195