BRIC-X

The 10th Bounded Rationality In Choice Conference

Venice, 10 – 12 June 2024

Program

Monday 10 June (Room 10A)

13:00 Registration and welcome

14:00 Philippe Jehiel (PSE and UCL)
Endogenous Clustering and Analogy-Based Expectation Equilibrium

14:40 Dazhuo Wei (U. Western Ontario)
A Random Attention Model with Stopping Time

15:20 Daniele Caliari (WZB — Social Science Center Berlin)
Irrational Random Utility Models

16:00 (Polo Rispoli) Long coffee break with poster session:
En Hua Hu (U. Toronto), Confidence in inference
Daniele Pennesi (U. Torino), Event valence and subjective probability Angelo Petralia (U. Catania), Identification of consideration sets from choice data
Evgenii Safonov (QMUL), Slow and easy: A theory of browsing
Chen Zhao (U. Hong Kong), Rationalizing choices in a rich domain

17:10 David Walker-Jones (U. Surrey)
Difficult Decisions

17:50 Songfa Zhong (National U. Singapore and NYU Abu Dhabi)
The Consistency of Rationality Measures

Tuesday 11 June (Room 10A)

9:00 Olivier Compte (PSE and Ecole des Ponts)
Belief formation and the persistence of biased beliefs

9:40 Yuval Salant (Northwestern U.)
Complexity and Satisficing: Theory with Evidence from Chess

10:20 José Apesteguia (UPF)
The Rationalizability of Survey Responses

11:00 (Polo Rispoli) Coffee break

11:30 Joshua Lanier (Southwestern U. of Finance and Economics, Chengdu)
Money Pumps and Bounded Rationality

12:10 Andrew Ellis (LSE)
Identifying Assumptions and Research Dynamics

13:00 (Polo Rispoli) Lunch with poster session:

Syed Ehsan Ali (U. Ca' Foscari Venezia), Consideration sets in collective choice

Bhavook Bhardwaj (Indian Statistical Institute), Decisions over sequences

Alfio Giarlotta (U. Catania), A rational measure of irrationality

Christopher Kops (Maastricht U.), (Mis)interpreting the world

Paola Manzini (U. Bristol), Choice and opportunity costs

14:30 Gonzalo Arrieta (Stanford U.)
  Procedural Decision-Making in the Face of Complexity

15:10 Yiran Wang (U. Rochester)
  Commitment to Thinking

16:00 (Polo Rispoli) Coffee break

16:30 Tai-Wei Hu (U. Bristol)
  Optimal Inquiry

17:10 Yoram Halevy (U. Toronto)
  How real is hypothetical? A high stakes test of the Allais paradox

19:00-20:45 Social dinner (Polo Rispoli)

Wednesday 12 June (Room 10A)

9:00 Muriel Niederle (Stanford U.)
  Decomposing the Winner's Curse

9:40 John Smith (Rutgers U.)
  The Random Thickness of Indifference

10:20 Lucas De Lara (Columbia U.)
  Rational Choice Overload

11:00 (Polo Rispoli) Coffee break

11:30 Yujian Chen (Johns Hopkins U.)
  A List-based Attention Model

12:10 Yusufcan Masatioglu (U. Maryland)
  Revealed Attention and Memory

13:00 (Polo Rispoli) Lunch

14:00 Wrap-up

BRIC-X
Practical information

Registration. Please fill the registration form and help us planning for the catering. There is no attendance fee. The organization covers lunches, coffee breaks, and a social dinner.

Venue. The conference takes place at the Economic Campus of Università Ca' Foscari Venezia, popularly known as S. Giobbe. Room 10A opens on the open-air corridor dividing the campus into two.

The campus has two entrances:

1. Ponte Valeria Solesin: About half-way on Platform 1 at the S. Lucia railway station[1] turn right at the sign "Uscita San Giobbe – Università" and follow the path until you reach the bridge called Ponte Valeria Solesin. (There is literally one way to go.) After crossing the bridge, the western entrance will be in front of you, with a cafeteria on your left and a garden on your right.

2. Fondamenta San Giobbe: From Ponte delle Guglie, stay on the left of the Rio di Cannaregio until (almost) the very end, and you will be at the eastern (red) gate.

Here is a map of the Campus and detailed information about accessible routes and transportation.

Poster presentations. Panels' size for posters is 98cm. wide and 175cm. high: they can carry an A0 sheet in portrait mode.

Access Fee. The municipality of Venice requires one-day visitors to pay an access fee in some designated days. There is no fee on 10–12 June, but if you come on 8–9 June and do not use a hotel in Venice, you may need to take action. Information at this link.

---

[1] Venice has two main stations: S. Lucia in the lagoon, and Mestre in the mainland.