This seminar brings together researchers at DSMN from diverse fields within physics and engineering to provide concise overviews of their ongoing work. Topics include theoretical physics, experimental condensed matter dynamics, complex networks, optoelectronics, telecommunication systems, and more! The presentations aim to offer a pragmatic view of current research strands, encouraging collaboration and discussion.
