- Is the Young Ambassadors Programme depending on local sponsors, as the Homo Faber Fellowship?

The programme is co-financed by several sponsors, that are not necessarily local sponsors as for the Homo Faber Fellowship.

- Can students who have participated to the 2018 and 2022 edition of the Young Ambassadors Programme apply for a third time?

Unfortunately, we will only consider candidates who have participated to a maximum of one previous edition.

- Because of the teaching calendar in our school/university, our students are not able to commit to the Young Ambassadors Programme. Can we still promote the programme to our recent graduates?

Yes, as we will consider applications from recent graduates.

Please note that depending on their studies (craft-oriented or not), recent graduates might be more interested in the Homo Faber Fellowship.

- Can students enrolled in a Design degree apply to the Young Ambassadors Programme?

Yes, as the audience we are targeting are creative students from applied arts, design or another creative field.

- Is the level of Italian an eliminatory criterion?

Since Homo Faber Biennial is taking place in Venice, Italy, it is compulsory for all participants to be able to understand and speak some Italian (A2 level). Applicants will be tested on their level of Italian during the interview process.
